Unisex Pajama Pattern

This Unisex Pajama Pattern is part of a new storyboard that I will be sharing with you called "Feelings". It's made up of clothes that either match or improve your state-of-mind. The pajama pattern is the first of the series and in which we will be focusing on comfort and warmth. This is Part 1 of the pajamas where we make the top and there will be a subsequent Part 2 where we will make the pajama bottoms to match.

I decided on this design because it seems like it's cold everywhere (even in Singapore if you can believe it). It'll be 23 °C (73.4°F) tonight, so I will be leaving the windows and doors wide open :) . Everyone, including my daughter, seems to be getting the flu so why not make things more comfortable with a new pair of PJs?

The key to this pattern is the fabric you choose to use. Use silk for a luxurious feeling, flannel for winter comfort, or cotton for a Sunday morning breakfast. I've provided examples of each of these in the fabric recommendations below.

Another important detail will be the piping on this unisex pajama pattern. Therefore, I would push this project up to the Intermediate Level of difficulty. If you are a beginner sewist and still want to make these pajamas, avoid working with the piping and make sure you own a serger. You may want to wait for the video to come out to help complete this project. But, by all means, go ahead and push yourself if you want a challenge. I would never discourage anyone from trying and pushing out of your comfort zone.

To print your PDF pattern
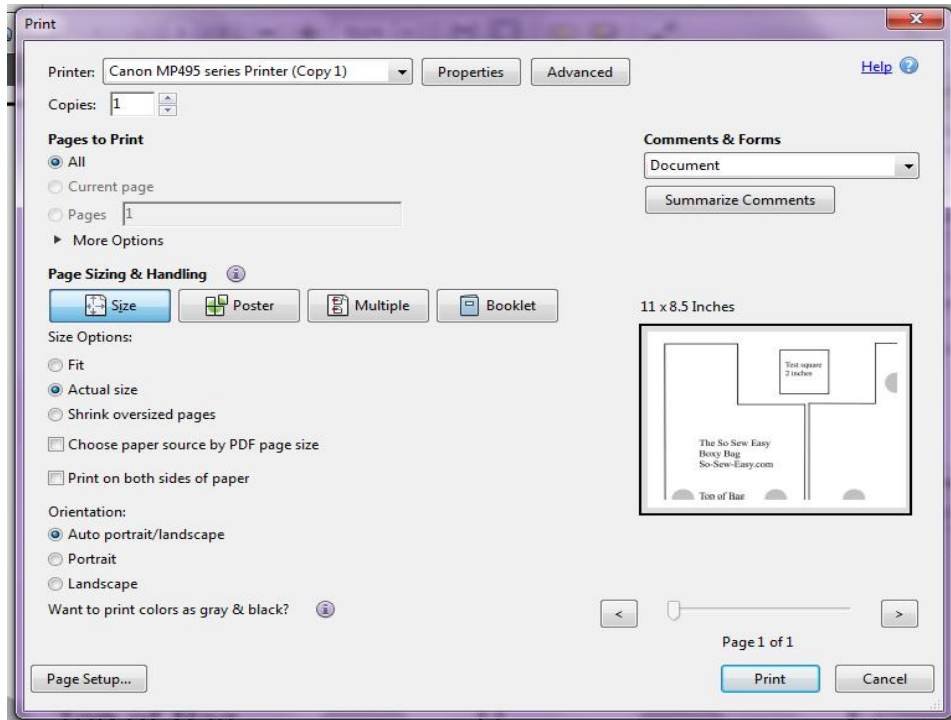

Your pattern pieces come at the end of these instructions. For accurate printing, please make sure you are using the latest version of Adobe Reader. You can download the latest version here if you need to.

Select File → Print and the print dialogue box opens. Under Page Sizing and Handling, select ACTUAL SIZE . Check the preview in the right hand side illustration. Select the page numbers you want to print. You can print the whole document, or just the pattern pieces.

On the edge of the top left page is a box you can use to test your printing. This box should measure 2 inches square. If yours is wildly different you will need to check your printer options to make sure the pages are not being resized.

Use the grey guides on the overlap of the sheets to match up the pattern pieces, folding under or cutting off any overlaps, tape together and cut out your pattern pieces.
